GO GET 'EM HUTCH - Ep. 11 "The Air-Line Route" ✓

©CIL 18011 c R The chapter opens with Hutch getting out of his perilous predicament with Sam Dailey, and winning the latter's confidence for the time being. Believing that Dailey and Lennox are allies, he hastens to Margie Dailey, to attempt to get to the bottom of the plot. Finding her on board her tug, she tells him that the mystery can be disclosed by accompanying her to the Army pier, where a certain bag contains valued information. Hutch questions the girl closely, and the amazing fact that Margie is his half sister is disclosed.

Together they approach the pier, and inquiring for the bag they learn that Hilton Lennox has preceded them and secured the bag himself. Hutch rushes from the dock in time to see Lennox disappearing down the street in his automobile. Seizing a motorcycle, Hutch takes up the pursuit, but is unaware that Sam Dailey is also following, hoping to secure the bag also. On and on the exciting chase goes, until Hutch has engine trouble. He is delayed for a few moments, but resumes the chase. Meanwhile, Lennox has reached a tumble-down shack and is hastily examining the papers. Before he knows what happens, Hutch crashes through the shack, seizes the papers and dashes out the other side, only to plunge toward a high cliff, unable to stop his machine.
